MISS LAURA P. WHITE of Ashland, sister of Hon. Jno. D. White, has an original plan by which silver metal may be put on an equality with gold. Miss White's plan may be found in the Dispatch of Monday, fourth page. Whatever may be said for or against her truly ingenious solution of the vexed problem, of her it can be truthfully said that there are few if any brighter women in the sunny south. At the north she eclipsed the record of years at the University of Michigan, and her achievements there are spoken of to-day as the high mark at which to aim. Her knowledge of affairs is so profound, her sims so lofty, and her soul so great, that we commend to all her masterful argument in favor of bimetallism, with her accompanying plan.
